

My name is Sarahbeth Grossman, and I serve as the Artistic Producer of the Tony Award-winning Dallas Theater Center.

Bob Hess has been a revered actor in the Dallas Metroplex for three decades. In 2022 we were lucky enough to entice Bob to join the Diane and Hal Brierley Resident acting company at DTC as part of our cohort of full-time resident artists. Bob's acting is recognized and respected by audiences across the Dallas Metroplex. In addition to his wonderful work on stage, Bob is an acclaimed and idolized acting teacher and director. He continues to make an indelible mark on the theater community. Bob has a broad range along with a joyous and childlike spirit of exploration and excitement around the work in the room. He can command the stage in a solo performance such as I AM MY OWN WIFE and is equally at home participating in the ensemble with a cast of hundreds of community members in our annual Public Works pageant. He is both a master of his craft and a mentor for all he works with. Bob is beloved by his students, his acting cohorts and our audiences. His passion and joy lead the way in every room he enters. And his continuing desire to improve upon his craft make each role he undertakes a new revelation for us all. Next up, Bob will be portraying the Narrator/Mysterious Man in our April production of INTO THE WOODS and we very much look forward to his taking on the role of Scrooge in our next annual production of A CHRISTMAS CAROL later this year.
